2026-P-201

IN THE PROBATE COURT OF COOK COUNTY

STATE OF GEORGIA

FILED
COOK COUNTY PROBATE COURT
2026 NOV -6 AM 10: 11
L. CHASE DAUGHTREY, JUDGE

STANDING ORDER
REGARDING THE USE OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE (AI) AND CERTIFICATION OF CITATIONS

All counsel and pro se litigants shall disclose the use of artificial intelligence ("AI") in any capacity in the preparation and composition of any pleadings, motions, briefs or any other documents submitted to the Cook County Probate Court. If AI were utilized in any manner to prepare or compose any filing or submission to this Court in any capacity, counsel and/or pro se litigants shall sign and file a "Disclosure of the Use of Artificial Intelligence" at the end of any such filing or submission, before the signature block, stating as follows:

> This Document was generated with the assistance of [identify the AI tool/program name]. [I/we] hereby certify under the penalty of perjury that, in spite of relying on an AI tool, [I/we] have independently reviewed the document to confirm accuracy, legitimacy and the use of good and applicable laws, pursuant to, inter alia, OCGA, ss 9-11-1 et seq and 9-15-14. [I/we] further certify that any exhibits cited in the pleadings exist in [my/our] possession at the time of the said filing in a format that [I am / we are] able to provide to the Court at any time during the pendency of this matter.

Counsel and pro se litigants are cautioned and forewarned that mistakes, time constraints and/or insufficient technical expertise or legal knowledge are not recognized by this Court as good faith excuses for the submission of documents that violate the Georgia Civil Practice Act or this Standing Order. Accordingly, arguments in briefs to this Court which are supported or infused by AI generated content — including but not limited to cases that do not exist or are substantially dissimilar from their presentation to the Court — are strictly disallowed.

Counsel and pro se litigants submitting any evidence including but not limited to documents, charts, photographs or any other exhibits that has been altered from its original form or manipulated in any manner for fraudulent and wrongful purposes shall be subject to sanction at the discretion of the judge.

This Standing Order shall be effective immediately and shall apply to all filings submitted after the date of this entry. Failure to comply fully and comprehensively with this Standing Order may result in appropriate sanctions up to and including dismissal and/or default judgment.

SO ORDERED this 6th day of November 20 26.

Hon. L. CHASE DAUGHTREY

Judge, Probate Court

Cook County, State of Georgia